Local Motor Vehicle Tag Offices to Provide Reduced Services During Columbus Day Weekend

ATLANTA—During the Columbus Day holiday weekend, local motor vehicle tag offices will only be able to provide minimum service due to the upgrading of the computers that house the state's motor vehicle registration and title data bases.

Beginning Friday, Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. and continuing until Tuesday, October 11 at 7:00 a.m., local tag offices will not be able to contact the central data system to transact any business regarding motor vehicle registration and titling.

"We recommend that individuals who are planning to conduct business at their local motor vehicle tag office on either Saturday or Monday contact the office beforehand to determine if they can complete their business," said Georgia Revenue Commissioner Bart L. Graham. "All local offices should be fully operational during their normal business hours on Tuesday, Oct. 11.
